Hello from Churchtown Farm...

As we basked in late summer sunshine the first of this winter's crop of scented narcissi peeped through the soil and our thoughts turned to the preparations needed for our busiest time of year.

In the fields, Jon and his team have been doing all the work needed to ensure a top quality crop of scented narcissi. In the shed, box making and ribbon cutting continued apace as we waited for the first winter scented narcissi to be picked. One job was missing as we had no 'newbies' to train; all our shed team are enjoying Scilly so much they have decided to stay, so there will be some familiar names and voices dealing with your flower orders this winter.

THE EARLY BIRD CATCHES THE WORM

chances to
WIN FREE
Christmas flowers

Place Christmas orders by December 5th and as well as the satisfaction of ticking off part of your Christmas to-do list you will automatically be entered into a draw to win your flowers for FREE.

HOW IT WORKS

We will randomly pick 25 winners and refund the value of ALL their orders to be delivered between December 10th and Christmas. So the more flowers you order, the more you could win. More detailed terms and conditions at:

DON'T DELAY
ORDER
TODAY

You will find a handy order form in the centre of this newsletter, if you prefer to order online visit scillyflowers.co.uk, or of course you can call us at the farm on 01720 422169. As our phone team also pack the flowers, they are well placed to answer your questions and are happy to take a break from the chilly packing shed to have a chat.

CHRISTMAS BOUQUETS FROM £22.50

A simple gift box of scented narcissi is a lovely Christmas gift, but if you are looking for something a little different we also send sumptuous Christmas bouquets.

Postcard

Keep your eyes peeled for a postcard from Scilly landing on your doormat in the New Year with a flowery special offer.

Behind the Scenes

Preparations for Christmas start way back in the summer. Once Jon and his team have finished the day's pick of scented pinks they turn their attention to the scented narcissi. Some bulbs need lifting, drying and replanting while others need different cultivation techniques to ensure we have flowers all through the winter season - Jon proudly picked our first narcissi on 7th October!

In late November, as the days really shorten, picking steps up a gear. Since all our narcissi are grown outdoors, if stormy weather blows in, picking becomes a tough job.

Once the Christmas rush is really under way we need extra space so our whole packing operation moves to a bigger shed that we borrow from farming friends on the larger island of St Mary's.

Huge bundles of flowers arrive back at the shed where Neil's team carefully sort and bunch them, checking the quality of each stem as they go. After being trimmed and sleeved the flowers go to the cold store ready for packing.

DEMENTIA FRIENDS

Fuelled by pasties, cups of tea and cake, our well practised packing operation swings into action, making sure all your Christmas flowers are ready for the freight boat from Scilly and finally to doorsteps all over the country.

We always strive to give the best customer care and recently we found 'Dementia Friends'; an Alzheimer's Society initiative that aims to widen understanding of dementia.

We now include the Dementia Friends video in our staff training so that our team are just a little more able to help.

Biological anatomy of Narcissus Tazetta Soleil d'Or

Spathe

Crisp brown sheath that protects the bud as it breaks through the soil.

Six Tepals

The term for undifferentiated, fused petals and sepals.

Corona

The central trumpet or cup.

Molecules

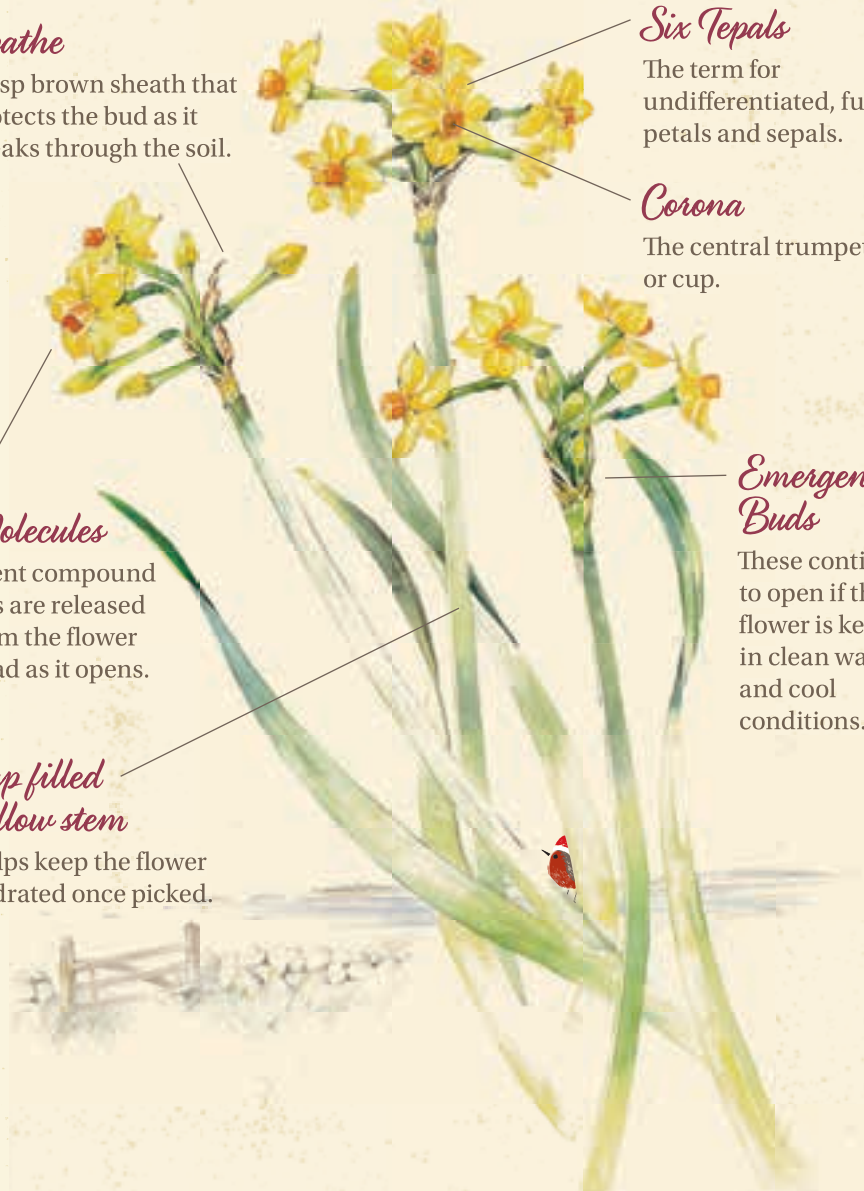

Scent compound oils are released from the flower head as it opens.

Emergent Buds

These continue to open if the flower is kept in clean water and cool conditions.

Sap filled hollow stem

Helps keep the flower hydrated once picked.

LAST CHRISTMAS...

The winner of our competition was Helen Utting, who with her husband Andrew took the Scilly holiday they won to celebrate Andrew's retirement.

Of course, whilst they were here we enjoyed showing them around Churchtown Farm.
